Favourite Product:

"ACG+ - It is my favourite product because of the range of industries it can be used in along with how easy it has been designed to maintain and calibrate for the end user".

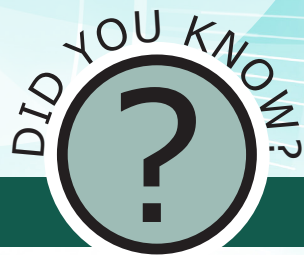

“I am a mechanical technician at Analox and my role involves me assisting with mechanical design, prototyping and testing of gas monitoring instruments. My design work involves the use of 2D and 3D Solidworks CAD software mainly comprising selection and modification of instrumentation enclosures to house electronics modules, sensors and gas sampling components along with writing support documentation such as bills of materials and step-by-step build instructions to hand-over to our Production department.”
